

Russian Spy Ring Broken Up by FBI

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The United States demanded today the immediate departure from U.S. territory of three members of the Soviet U.N. delegation accused of spying.

The U.S. delegation made the demand in a note sent to the Soviet delegation a day after two of the three were picked up with a New Jersey executive of a firm doing secret projects for the U.S. government.

The three men who were ordered out of the country were Gleb A. Pavlov, attaché in the Soviet delegation; Yugi A. Romashin, third secretary, and Vladimir I. Olenov, described merely as a member of the delegation.

A U.S. delegation source, announcing the sending of the note, said:

"We are asking for their immediate departure."

He said that "immediate" usually means 48 hours.

"Their actions here constituted a flagrant abuse of their privilege of residence in the United States," he added.

Satellite Vehicle Is Sent Up

VANDENBERG AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP) — The Air Force says a satellite vehicle was boosted toward polar orbit from this West Coast missile base, but refused to say whether orbit was achieved.

The space shot Tuesday used a Thor-Agena D combination rocket.

The thrust of the intermediate range, liquid-fuel Thor was increased to 330,000 pounds by three solid-fuel rockets strapped to its sides.

Such satellites frequently carry photographic equipment being developed for the Samos space spy system.

Living Cost Unchanged, U.S. Reports

WASHINGTON (AP) — The cost of living remained unchanged in September with fluctuating prices of selected items balancing off, the Labor Department said today.

Food prices fell six-tenths of one per cent from August.

Transportation costs also eased largely because of gasoline price wars in the Midwest and season-end lower prices for new cars of the 1963 models.

On the other hand, clothing prices were up slightly and there was a 1.9-per cent increase in the cost of such services as auto insurance, medical services, home repairs, laundry and dry cleaning.

The department's price index remained for the second straight month at 107.1. This means that selected items which cost $10 in the 1957-59 base period now cost $10.71.

In detailing the food price drop the department's Bureau of Labor Statistics said largely seasonable lower prices of fresh fruits and vegetables more than offset a seasonal egg price increase.

Key Club Is Guest of Kiwanians

The 30-member Hope High School Key Club, a boys organization of outstanding scholastic students, were luncheon guests Tuesday of Hope Kiwanis club, the sponsoring organization.

The Key-Clubbers put on a 30-minute program which included the following: Richard McDowell, Carter H. Adage, Charles McMahan, John Andrews and Phil McLarty.

The local Key Club organization is the second oldest in the Mo-Ark district, having been chartered in 1947. E. P. Young, Jr., and Paul O'Neal are chairman of the Kiwanis committee in charge of the group.

Kenneth F. Daniles was introduced as a new member of the club.

George Peck, Jr., and Elaine Petre gave a brief sketch of the first production of the play, "Dear Charles", which will be staged by the Little Theater of Hope on the stage of Hope High School auditorium November 14 and 15.

A Man's Life Is Measured by His Memories, the Lasting Fingerprints of the Soul

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — Every man's life is measured by his memories.

They are his mental Baedeker, the fadeless guidebook of the mind.

Memories also are the lasting fingerprints of the soul. No two people, no matter how deeply shared their lives, ever have quite the same set. We are born individual, and as we age our memories accent that individuality.

But they also help keep us mutual. And you've passed a lot of milestones yourself if you can remember when —

Dad first let you drink from the nozzle of the garden hose as he watered the lawn—and it had the most wonderful flavor in the world.

White collar workers earned more than blue collar workers. The wealthiest guy in the block was the kid with the most marbles.

Secrecy Shrouds Probe of Ex-Page Boy's Activities; Woman Denies Wrongdoing

By G. MILTON KELLY
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senators delving into the business affairs of Robert G. Baker are working behind a barrier of secrecy they say is essential in the early stages of the investigation.

Baker, the one-time page boy who achieved wealth and power as secretary to the Senate's Democratic majority, resigned under fire Oct. 7.

Sen. B. Everett Jordan, D-N.C., chairman of the Senate Rules Committee, said it was necessary to take exploratory testimony behind closed doors to avoid hurting innocent persons because of association with the inquiry.

But Jordan said the investigation at "some point" would be opened to the public, with Baker as a witness.

The next closed session of the Rules Committee is scheduled Friday but procedural matters are scheduled rather than the hearing of testimony.

The committee's task is to determine whether Baker or any other Senate employee has been involved in conflicts of interest between official duties and personal business affairs.

They may try to summon a beautiful West German woman from her overseas home for questioning about rumors linking her name with some Washington figures.

The West German press has quoted the woman, Ellen Rometsch, 27, as denying any intimacies with men other than her husband, Rolf, a West German army sergeant from whom she is now estranged.

The West German government has said Rometsch was called home last August from a post at its embassy here because of reports concerning his wife's conduct.

Actor Adolph Menjou Dies at Age of 73

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Adolph Menjou, an elegant dresser who mourned the fading popularity of spats and knickers, was himself mourned by Hollywood today.

The veteran actor, whose career spanned more than 50 years and over 200 films, died of chronic hepatitis Tuesday at his Beverly Hills home. He was 73.

Menjou's third wife, the former Verree Teasdale, and their adopted son, Peter, 27, were at his side.

The actor had been in ill health nine months, his son said.

His clipped mustache and precise speech, along with his dapper clothes gave him the image. He said it was deliberate.

Menjou attended Cornell University where he wrote, produced and directed college theatricals.

Before World War I, he made screen love to such stars as Marguerite Clark and Norma

Arkansan Buys Six Buffaloes

LAWTON, Okla. (AP) — Sunday Land & Cattle Co. of Prairie Grove, Ark., was a successful bidder on six live buffalo from the nation's largest wild herd at the Wichita Mountains Wildlife Refuge near Lawton.

The animals cost $160 each. The buffalo were shipped from Lawton Tuesday as part of the government's annual program to keep the herd at 1,000 head.

Okays Hiking National Debt Level

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Ways and Means Committee approved today a bill that would raise the $309-billion national debt ceiling to $315 billion through June 29.

By then, Congress would have to reconsider the whole issue of the government borrowing limit — as it has already three times this year.

The House will vote on the bill next week, leaders said. Unless congressional action is completed by Nov. 30, the debt limit automatically will drop to $285 billion, some $20 billion under the expected actual debt as of that date.

The bill would extend the present $309-billion limit through June 30 and provide an additional special $6-billion leeway through June 29.

ASC to Pick Delegates to Convention

The annual election of ASC Committeemen and delegates to the Hempstead ASC County Convention will be held by mail between November 22 and December 2, 1963.

It is desirable that currently active farmers or ranchers be nominated and elected who are best qualified for Community Committee work and who will be representative of the various sections and types of agriculture in the community.

Petitions signed by 6 or more eligible voters nominating persons for membership on the Community Committee will be received at the County Office at any time not less than 20 days before the date set for return of ballots by farmers which is November 13, 1963.

The names of persons nominated by proper petition will be included in the state of nominees if found willing to serve and are eligible.

If a person nominated by petition is found ineligible he will be notified of such determination prior to completion of the state of nominees and that he may appeal to the County Committee any time prior to the date set for completion of the state of nominees.

The County Committee may make such additional nominations as it considers desirable.

No Danger of Price Hikes, U.S. Assures

By STERLING F. GREEN
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON (AP)—Housewives, relax—for the time being anyway.

The government's economists see no danger that the autumn outbreak of price boosts in a dozen industries will unbalance the family budget.

Increases on items ranging from steel and aluminum to carpets and black pepper—was followed—perhaps by coincidence—by revival of a New York federal grand jury probe into steel-pricing policies.

Coincidental or not, that Justice Department move underscored President Kennedy's warning that Uncle Sam is "watching with concern" any price trend that might start an inflationary spiral.

Kennedy's Consumer Advisory Council, set up last year to give consumers a lobby in Washington, announced a special

By JOE HALL

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress will stay in operation right up to the start of the 1964 session. Even so, it may not have time enough to act this year on the top-priority tax cut and civil rights legislation.

Senators got the news Tuesday of the nonstop session—the first in 22 years—from Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield. And House leaders indicated they expect about the same sort of schedule.

Mansfield told his colleagues to expect a one-day break for Veterans Day, two days off at Thanksgiving and a 12-day Christmas-New Year's recess.

Mansfield said the Senate would be back Jan. 2 and that it might meet the morning of

Ford Sales Up, Profit Goes Down

By CHARLES C. CAIN
AP Automotive Writer

DETROIT (AP)—Ford Motor Co. set a nine months' sales record this year, but its profit picture wasn't as rosy as that of Chrysler or General Motors. Tuesday Ford became the last of the nation's three biggest auto makers to file its financial report for the first three-quarters of 1963.

All reports agree that auto business has been very good.

The economists who consider the auto industry a key indicator of the nation's business situation, there was "heartening news."

GM in its third-quarter report Monday said its profits through September exceeded a billion dollars, Chrysler reported over $100 million in the same period.

Ford sales for the first nine months this year were almost $6.2 billion with profits of $346 million, or $3.14 a share. The previous record for a nine-month period was in 1962 when sales were about $5.8 billion, with profits of $350 million, or $3.18 a share.

There was no comment on the decline in profits in the report to Ford shareholders, which was signed by Henry Ford II.

An examination of the figures told the story: Of eight domestic Ford cars only two—Ford and Mercury—showed an increase in the first nine months of this year over production for the same period of 1962. The Fairlane, Falcon, Thunderbird, Meteor, Comet and Continental showed declines. The Mercury Meteor was discontinued this year.

Explaining the small drop in profits, Ford spokesmen said increased costs of materials and increased wages are among the factors involved. They also cited "unusually heavy expenses in tooling up for our 1964 models."

Mercury Dips to 26 in Fayetteville

By THE ASSOCIATE PRESS

Cool weather shifted from the northwest section of Arkansas to the east-central area Tuesday night. Marianna, Brinkley, Stuttgart and Batesville all recorded sub-freezing temperatures.

Fayetteville, which had a low of 26 degrees Tuesday morning, had 13-degree warmer weather this morning.

A cool high pressure is centered over Mississippi and its continued southeastward movement will allow higher temperatures to move back into Arkansas today. No freezing temperatures were expected tonight.

The forecast calls for clear to partly cloudy and warmer through Thursday with lows tonight of 45 to 55 and highs Thursday 72 to 82.

High temperatures Tuesday were in the 60s.

The five-day outlook for temperatures four to eight degrees above normal with no rain to break the state's extended drought.

Guerrillas Take Three Americans

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP)—Communist guerrillas smashed a crack South Vietnamese task force Tuesday and probably captured the three U.S. Army advisers with the 120-man task force.

The three Americans, listed as missing, were two officers and an enlisted medic. Stragglers returning from the rout said both officers had been wounded in the fight.

A second government force of about 200 men, operating only a few thousand yards away, learned of the battle too late to help. U.S. authorities said Communist radio jammers knocked out the channels on all local military radios.

The operation cost the Vietnamese special forces an estimated 20 killed, 30 wounded and 12 missing and presumed captured. Heavy weapons lost included a 60mm mortar. Viet Cong losses were unknown.

"The day ended with the enemy in command of the field," a high-ranking American officer said.

Names of the missing Americans were not announced.

The U.S. casualty list rose to four late Tuesday when the Air Force pilot of a light spotting

Negro Admits Killing Wife of Oil Man

MIDLAND, Tex. (AP) — A youthful ex-convict has admitted killing Mrs. Fred Turner, wife of a wealthy oilman and racehorse owner. She was bludgeoned Tuesday during a burglary—attempt in the family's palatial home.

Police said James L. Marion, 22, a Midland Negro, was charged with murder and jailed. He told newsmen Tuesday night: "I don't want to talk."

Mrs. Turner, 66, was so badly beaten about the face that it was first thought she had been shot.

Marion fled after slugging a daughter of the slain woman. Officers pulled him from an attic hiding place in a house two blocks distant a bit later and he admitted the killing.

Marion finished serving a state prison sentence for burglary last June.

Relatives discovered Mrs. Turner's body shortly after 7:30 a.m. Although a wall safe in a closet was open and empty, topsy-turvy drawers in her dressing room still contained a fortune in diamonds she had battled to save.

GOPs Warn No Politics in Rights Bill

By JOHN BECKLER
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON (AP)—House Republicans kept their fingers crossed today as they received administration praise for helping to launch a strong civil rights bill in Congress.

The Republicans have warned the administration all pledges of support for the compromise measure are off if the Democrats seek to make any political gain out of civil rights at their expense.

At the moment, though, bipartisanship was holding firm and the long bottled-up legislation finally began to move through the House.

Even with President Kennedy, Speaker John W. McCormack and Republican Leader Charles A. Halleck behind it, however, the far-reaching compromise bill faces delays and obstacles.

The most optimistic estimate heard Tuesday after the House Judiciary Committee approved the bill by a 23-11 vote was that it would be mid-November before it gets to the House floor. The time will be needed to write a report on the measure and hold hearings in the Southern-dominated Rules Committee.

The biggest obstacle remaining, the Senate, however, where it is accepted as fact that a Southern filibuster will have to be</

YOUNG WIFE HELD PRISONER

By Helen Worden Erskine

Dear Helen: I live in a small prison built by my parents. Though married and scheduled to have a baby next January, they won't let me go because they need me. My husband, a wonderful guy, is still in the Service, so at the start it seemed best to stay with my folks. You see, my mother has TB and ever since I was 14, or younger, I've cooked, cleaned, washed, ironed and sewed for the family. I even bathe Mama.

My husband will be out of the Army soon. I dearly love him. After seven years of doing for my folks, am I not entitled to lead my own life? Should I quit now? My hubby, church and friends say yes, my parents say no.

My father signed for two loans for us when we married last March because we are only 20. One was for a car and garage bills, the other for small bills. I paid off for the car myself but the title is still in father's name. Shouldn't it be in mine? He says not until the other loan is settled. I don't ask pay for taking care of Mama

Arkansas River. Fourteen bids were submitted for the project which Army Engineers figure will cost $13,200,608 without profit.

but if it weren't for me he'd have to get a nurse. Do I still owe my folks more help — Fuzzled and Helpless

Dear ruzzled: The day your husband is discharged from the Army, you must go with him to your own home if you possibly can. Bear your child, share the joy of it together and fulfill your roles as wife, mother and homemaker. Then, if you have strength and time, help your parents.

No one can say you have not given your best to them in a bad situation. It sounds as if your father thinks of children as chattel. He co-signed your note at a bank or finance company for the purchase of a car, and you have repaid the loan. Therefore he has no legal right to retain title to the car. His taking it in the first place was a hard-headed business move and not the gesture of a father who was grateful to a dutiful daughter for serving as housekeeper, nurse and cook in the home she had every right to leave when she married.

I vote with your husband, your church and your friends. You certainly don't owe your father first claim on your married life. If you multiply the monthly salary of a practical nurse by the number of months you have worked for him since your marriage, you might find that you have paid off your debt and then some.

Dear Helen: My 21-year-old daughter is dating a married man old enough to be her father. It breaks my heart to see her throwing herself away on someone who doesn't love her and has no intention of divorcing. Should I tell his wife — Perplexed and Heartbroken Mother

Dear Mother: Talk to the cradle-snatcher first but make it plain that you will tell his wife unless he stops seeing your daughter. Give her my love, "Attentions from Married Men." A stamped, self-addressed envelope will bring it to you.

Dear Helen: My son, though 19 and a university sophomore, still is at a loss as to how to ask a girl for a date. I tell him, "Faint heart ne'er won fair lady." But he says that's no help to him. Should I take the initiative and invite girls to the house for him to meet? Can you suggest a book which would give him the know-how he lacks — Baffled

Dear Baffled: If motivation is lacking, learning seldom takes. When the right girl comes along your son will find the right words. Meanwhile, give him a copy of Dale Carnegie's "How to Win Friends and Influence People."

Poor Nations Helped by Businessmen

By JACK LEPLER
AP Business News Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — A little known organization of businessmen is providing underdeveloped countries with the means for industrial progress. It is called "Tools for Freedom."

The movement got its start in 1960 and has been picking up momentum ever since.

At that time four Connecticut firms shipped metalworking shapers, lathes, a drill press, a grinding machine and machine tools to St. Joseph's School of Industrial Trades in Dacca, East Pakistan.

This was the beginning of industry's first formal effort to supplement the United States' tax-supported foreign aid program with one of its own operated and supported by private enterprise.

That first shipment enabled student enrollment at the school to more than double. Now St. Joseph's reports that it has become the second best-equipped technical school in East Pakistan, second only to a school sponsored by the Ford Foundation at a cost of nearly a million dollars.

Mansfield D. Sprague, president of Tools for Freedom and vice president of the American Machine & Foundry Co., explained the program.

"Tools for Freedom is an action program organized, sponsored and administered by the U.S. business community, to foster both self-help development overseas and to give a boost to the U.S. business community here and abroad," he said.

"Its essence is the contribution by American industry of both new or used, outdated machinery, equipment and inventory to qualified technical and vocational schools in the developing countries of Africa, South Asia and Latin America.

"The equipment is only for schools. It is tax deductible at full market value. There is no government involvement."

Sprague says the program can become a two-way street. American Machine & Foundry signed a contract with the Pakistan atomic commission for construction of a nuclear research reactor.

Tools for Freedom has nearly 400 contributing companies and has on hand requests for equipment from 480 schools.

El Dorado Has Model School Plant

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A letter from a Louisiana college official gave Education Commissioner Arch Ford opportunity today to pay glowing tribute to El Dorado's new high school plant.

Dean Bond Fleming of Centenary College in Shreveport wrote Ford that the new school at El Dorado was the finest he had ever seen. Bond was a special guest at dedication of the facility last Sunday.

Ford made the principal address.

Ford said he, like Bond, had never seen a school plant to match the one at El Dorado.

"I recommend it to any school board which wants to see an ideal plant," Ford said in an interview. "I realize that only a few districts will be financially able to duplicate it, but they could get ideas there."

The air-conditioned school has 129,000 square feet of instructional area and it is built so that a specific area is assigned to each subject matter. It has, for example, a wing for liberal arts, a wing for science, and a wing for vocational and business education.

The most appealing feature of the school, Ford said, is that it was built to accommodate a program which was prepared by the faculty of the school.

It even has a research department for outstanding students in science, Ford said.

Union Life to Sell Building

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Plans to sell the 13½-story Union Life Insurance Co. building were announced Monday by E. M. Arnold, president. A new home for the firm will be built in downtown Little Rock when the sale

THE STORY: Dr. Ann Kenyon was in a train wreck. Her last thought as she lapsed into unconsciousness was that she was not in love with Dr. Brill Cayden.

III

I don't love you, Brill. I don't love you, Brill. I don't love you, Brill. The words were a chant, at once soundless and deafening, ringing through her slowly returning consciousness, holding her prisoner in the dirty, gray, swirling fog bank that convoluted about her, trailing lecherous damp cold hands over her face, her throat, her body, enshrouding her.

"Mrs. McAnders?" The voice wasn't hers at all; it came from too far away, was too oddly disembodied, too small and groping through the fog.

She willed her eyes open, but it didn't help. There was only more of the grayness, perhaps not pitching and swooping quite so violently but there, swirling her, sticking a trillion stinging needles into her flesh . . . the rain, she thought, remembering. A driving, cold rain that felt like ice slivers jabbing at her. If help were long in coming, if this were one of those far-from-even-odd-country - road stretches like some that railroads run through - in this freezing rain - exposure - pneumonia - Her doctor's mind spurring her, she tried to call out to the voices that seemed to be wandering through the fog banks about her, and to sit up. But the pain was a lance stab through her to unleash a white - hot flame that must be burning the marrow from her right femur.

Cautiously she moved her other leg, flexed her hands, lifted her left arm. Her right arm was curiously twisted beneath her, but if it were broken a fresh wave of agony would have raced through her when she flexed her fingers. A sprain, or a dislocated elbow - The diagnostic plane of her thoughts tilted, the fragment of consciousness that had been widening disintegrated and she was back on the train, feeling the floor suddenly buckle beneath her feet even as the coach reared like some lassoed wild stallion and then plunged as violently, pitching her from the seat she tried desperately to hang on to while the whole world went black and scream-filled around her.

"You're going to be all right, lady." Hands as gentle as his voice were on her shoulders, pressing her back. "We'll be at the hospital in another couple of minutes. Just take it easy, now."

Ann closed her eyes, and opened them again. The pale distant light that her semi-consciousness had identified as the dome light of an ambulance was still swimming fuzzily, sometimes all but disappearing in the rolling, swirling fog clouds that had been pressing down upon her. She hadn't been aware of slipping off the rim of consciousness to which she had been clinging, but she must have, she realized shakily, and during that time she had been lifted from the wreckage and placed in an ambulance. Now she was clinging again. No, floating. Being wafted through that strange gray down-and-zephyr-filled world so like emergence from anesthesia. . . "What - happened?"

The voice was faintly her own, some far-away echo that had gotten lost in the distance and the pale, thin, wispy light that was doing such uncanny things to the young man, who now was bending over the other stretcher.

"I don't know, but it's sure a mess back there." He sounded uncanny too, she thought, his words distorted, his tone reedy when moments ago it had been deep-noted and comforting. A fresh wave of nausea sent his face reeling away from her.

She heard him say, "Better not try to move. You've a nasty break in that leg."

A sound came from the other stretcher. A hoarse, strangled sort of sound.

Instinctively Ann moved to sit up; white - hot tongues of flame licked through her, nausea rose, scalding and coppery tasting in her throat, as she said, "His tongue."

It was a gasp, almost as the man's own, but through the thickening gray veils that seemed to be stifling her she could see the ambulance attendant forcing open the clamped jaws, inserting a flange to capture the man's tongue which had fallen back and was choking him. Her ears ringing as if she'd had too much quinine, she only half heard his words moments later when a tongue depressor from the ambulance's emergency kit was in place, "That was quick thinking. You a nurse?"

"A . . . doc-tor." At first she wasn't even sure the sounds had left her lips, she felt so weak and quivery inside.

Trull Going Great for Baylor Bears

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Don Trull, Baylor's passing man, probably knows it but he might get his toughest rush job this week.

Baylor coach John Bridgers obviously thinks this way because he has his boys working at pass protection-most of the time as they prepare to meet Texas Christian Saturday in one of the top games of Southwest Conference football.

Bridgers indicated that he didn't think TCU's pass rush might be sufficient to halt the mighty throwing of Trull. At least that was the implication when he said "we felt that Texas A&M last Saturday did the best job of pass rushing anybody has done against us this season, and we know TCU is just as big and strong as the Aggies."

For the record: Trull completed 19 passes for 244 yards and three touchdowns against A&M, so Texas Christian better have a stronger pass rush than A&M if it expects to get anywhere.

Anyway Baylor will be injury free when it faces Texas Christian before about 35,000 at Waco Saturday. Texas Christian took last week off but still got an injury. Joe Ball, sophomore end who had been starting, re-injured an ankle Monday and will probably miss the Baylor game.

Texas, tied with Baylor for the conference lead, plays Southern Methodist at Dallas in the other big game on the schedule.

Texas Coach Darrell Royal expressed concern over what Southern Methodist might do to his team. "That SMU looks like a bucket of minnows just going everywhere," Royal declared. "They are confusing and really fast." He described halfback John Roderick as a "blurr."

Southern Methodist has been able to win only two games with its "bucket of minnows" and its Roderick was stopped virtually cold by Texas Tech last week. Texas has won six straight games and is No. 1 in the nation.

Southern Methodist claimed to be bruised and battered and had tackle Buddy Miller on the bench with a back injury. Texas was in top shape.

Rice plays Texas Tech at Lubbock and Arkansas meets Texas A&M at Little Rock in other conference games Saturday.

Rice will have tackle John Mims back but has lost wingback George Parry for three weeks. Texas Tech was injury free although it still couldn't count on Roger Gill, a halfback who missed the Southern Methodist game with a shoulder separation.

Both Arkansas and Texas A&M counted numerous injuries, the Aggies being hardest hit. Tackle Marvin Dawkins was lost for the season and halfback Tommy Meeks will miss the Arkansas game while punter Jim Keller may not be able to play.

Quarterback Jon Brittenum and end Jim Finch are doubtful participants for Arkansas which, however, will get full-back Jim Lindsey back.

Medicare's Obituary Announced

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—House Speaker John W. McCormack, in the role of funeral director, has just released the 1963 obituary notice on President Kennedy's program of medical care for the aged. It was an anticlimax.

Rigor mortis had set in months ago. Nobody who watches Congress and the politicians could have figured the program had a chance from the time Kennedy offered it once again last February.

He made no real fight for it, at least publicly. But he didn't make much of a fight for it publicly last year, either.

And in Congress, which killed the program in 1962, there was astonishingly little fuss about it this year although Democrats overwhelmingly outnumber Republicans and Democrats had promised medical care in their 1960 platform.

Kennedy will hand it to Congress again next year, when it probably will get more attention since 1964 is an election year and there are about 17.5 million people over 65. That's a lot of votes.

The program's biggest enemies remain the same as before: The American Medical Association and a bunch of Democrats and Republicans. No one party can be blamed for the program's massacre up to this point. Both are responsible.

McCormack talked heatedly about the Republican opposition. But this is about on the same plane with the blasts issued by the Republican National Committee at Kennedy. It's routine.

McCormack said the measure could have been put through the House Ways and Means Committee—where it needs approval before going to the full House for a vote—if a couple of the 10 Republicans on the committee would vote for it.

This skips over the fact that in the 25-man committee Democrats outnumber Republicans 15 to 10. With this 3-2 edge, even with all 10 Republicans against, the program could have sailed through if all 15 Democrats stuck together and voted for it.

They didn't. McCormack said at least 11 of the Democrats favored the bill, which meant four Democrats joined the Republicans in being against it.

But the Democratic chairman of the committee, Rep. Wilbur Mills of Arkansas, was against it and Mills is such a powerful man in Congress that the Kennedy administration hasn't wanted to put any heat on him, even for medical care.

Last year Mills' group completely blocked the program from getting to the full House for a vote, which was the problem this year, too. Last year an effort was made to get the program at least through the Senate.

There was a watered-down version of Kennedy's original request was put to a vote and defeated. It was watered-down because Kennedy backtracked on legislation.

For instance: This year he asked for tax cuts and tax reforms. He made it a more important program than medical care. But the going got rough in Congress and Kennedy backtracked on the reforms in order to get the cuts.

In the Senate last year, with Democrats outnumbering Republicans 64 to 36, the medical care bill was killed by a 52-48 vote, with 21 Democrats (17 of them Southern Democrats) joining 31 Republicans to beat it. Voting for it were 43 Democrats and only 5 Republicans.

Even at the very start of this year, before Kennedy sent his program to the Capitol once more, McCormack expressed the typical politician's optimism, carefully hedged.

He said last January he was "very hopeful that a medical bill will come out and pass" but add-

To Manage Chiefs

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP) — Frank Craswell, who managed the Syracuse Chiefs to the Northern Division championship in the International Baseball League last season, will manage ed that he could not predict whether it would happen this year or next.

That sounded like a death-knell before the bill ever reached Congress.

From the very beginning of 1963, Kennedy's major concern was getting Congress to cut taxes. Later civil rights became a major problem, too. But no big administration pitch was ever made for medical care.

Programs of News Locked in Battle

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer
NEW YORK (AP)—One of the hottest battles in network television involves the two big early evening news programs. Heading the NBC team are Chet Huntley and David Brinkley. Walter Cronkite leads the CBS forces.

In many cities around the age the team next year, the club announced Tuesday.

country, the shows are seen at the same time. In the New York area, Cronkite comes on a half hour ahead of Huntley-Brinkley.

Both programs have approximately the same size audiences, with perhaps a slight edge for NBC. News program audiences are nowhere near the size of popular entertainment shows like "Beverly Hillsbillies" and "Bonanza" but news shows are vital to the networks because they give prestige and status.

Each show covers in abbreviated form the headline news of the day. Tuesday night each program opened with stories about the plane attack on the U.S.-bound freighter. Each had resumes of the day's civil rights developments. Each touched on Tito's U.N. visit, the British jet crash, the transatlantic troop airlift.

NBC had some shots of President Kennedy making speeches. CBS found time for a filmed feature about a salvage operation on a Civil War gunboat.

Obviously one's choice of program when they are broadcast simultaneously must be a preference for the style of those who read the news. Some like Chet Huntley's sober, incisive way with a short sentence or David Brinkley's dry manner and occasional flash of wit. Others prefer Walter Cronkite's business-like, no-nonsense approach. ABC has purchased the television rights from the publishing company that owns them and it will be able to show films of the Fisher quintuplets on a Nov. 17 news show.

If the programs already announced for next season really make the air, it will mean that every show currently in sight will disappear, and someone will have to organize a fourth network to accommodate the over-flow.

Plans are in the works for shows planned for the 1965-66 season.

Recommended tonight: "CBS Reports," 7:30-8:30 (ET) — "The Great American Funeral," based on Jessica Mitford's controversial new book.

Hawks Turn Hockey Race Into Runaway

By JOE MOOSHIL

Associated Press Sports Writer

CHICAGO (AP)—The Chicago Black Hawks are threatening to turn the National Hockey League race into a runaway.

Playing with a determination which they hope will offset last season's late collapse, the Hawks have lost only one of their first nine games and pulled into a six-point lead over Toronto and Montreal with an effortless 5-1 victory over Detroit Tuesday night.

A crowd of 13,987 came out to watch Gordie Howe, Detroit's big right wing, attempt to break the NHL scoring record of 544 goals he now shares with Maurice Richard.

Howe failed to score but the fans saw Ken Wharram, Chicago's little right wing, turn in his first major league hat trick. The only other three goal performance this season was scored by Chicago's Stan Mikita.

The Hawks have played five games at home, winning them all. On the road they have one victory, one loss and two ties. Coach Billy Reay has the club playing aggressive hockey and every man appears to be in top physical condition.

Despite having such stars as Bobby Hull and Mikita, the club is thriving on balance. Wharram and Ab McDonald are among the league's leading scorers with Mikita and Hull.

"Everybody is putting out and all the guys are working well," said Reay, who was named to replace Rudy Pilous after the Hawks flopped at the end of the 1962-63 campaign to finish second.

Texas, LSU, Illinois Are Favorites

By HAROLD CLAASSEN

Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—They still manufacture pencils with erasers at the top so forget last week's selections—41 right, 11 wrong for .745—and recuperate with picks for the coming week. The season's figures are 228 correct with 79 misses for .741.

Here are the choice for the games ahead:

Texas over Southern Methodist: The SMU Mustangs have made great advances, especially on defense, but the Longhorns' Ford and Carlisle are more than they can handle.

Illinois over Purdue: The Purdue defense is stubborn but these Illinois sophomores are a rugged lot when they play at home.

Louisiana State over Mississippi: The revamped LSU backfield came of age in the close struggle with Florida a week ago. The Rebels have had two weeks getting ready for this one.

Air Force over Army: The Cadets have the better record but they never have encountered a passing quarterback on a level with Terry Isaacson.

Southern California over Washington: The Trojans' Four B's—Beathard, Brown, Bedsole and Bame—are functioning again although the Huskies' Junior Coffey may be the game's hero.

Navy over Notre Dame: A year ago these two teams played in a young hurricane. This season's hurricane is Roger Staubach.

Michigan State over Wisconsin: The running of Sherm Lewis and Dewey Lincoln to offset the passing of Harold Brandt.

Princeton over Brown: This is one of the best Princeton teams in recent years.

Auburn over Florida: In this game the home field is the decisive factor.

Ohio State over Iowa: The Buckeyes are stronger and more plentiful.

Syracuse over Pittsburgh: The Panthers haven't recovered from the embarrassment they suffered against Navy last week.

Oklahoma over Colorado: Could be lopsided.

Alabama over Mississippi State: Joe Namath gives the Crimson Tide an edge.

Nebraska over Missouri: The Tiger offense sputters and the Huskers have Dennis Claridge at the controls.

North Carolina State over Virginia: With relative ease.

Hatfield Is Mentioned as Back of Week

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP)—The Associated Press Back of the Week accepted the admiration of all today but didn't seem especially impressed with his performance.

Actually I haven't had a real outstanding ball game yet," said Russell Vollmer, the brilliant quarterback who engineered Memphis State's 17-10 football triumph over Mississippi State Saturday night.

But Vollmer's trim 6-foot, 190-pound form dominated the storybook game marked by madness and melodrama.

He ran back the opening kickoff 78 yards to set up Memphis State's first score. Later in the first quarter on another Tiger drive, he was knocked completely off the field and had to be rushed to a hospital for examination.

Mississippi State slowly moved ahead and Memphis State fans were telling themselves the game was lost when they noticed battered No. 12 jog onto the field during the second half. They screamed for their hero and he gave them what they wanted as he directed the winning touchdown in the final quarter.

BULL SHOALS, Ark. (AP)—Glen Andrews of Lampe, Mo., widened his lead in the fresh water World Series of Fishing by six points Tuesday.

He increased his lead from 11 points Monday to 17 Tuesday. His total is 153 points.

Andrews, a professional fishing guide and the Missouri fishing champion, landed seven bass Tuesday, including one that weighed four pounds, 13 ounces and was the biggest catch of the day.

Howard Vinson of Dallas, Tex., was second with 136 points, moving past Jim Rogers of Lamar, Mo., who was second Monday.

Virgil Ward, defending world champion from Amsterdam, Mo., moved into seventh place Tuesday. If he can hold his place, he can compete in the finals Thursday. Finalists include the top seven men and the top three women.

N. Carolina Man Lineman of the Week

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP)—It couldn't have been anything so mundane as "All right, boys. Let's go get 'em." But whatever Bert Wilder said before the opening kickoff and between halves of the Duke game at Raleigh last Saturday helped the North Carolina State tackle win today the designation as Lineman of the Week by The Associated Press.

The 24-year-old senior from Greensboro, N.C. backed up his words by leading a savage Wolfpack defense that handed the Blue Devils their first defeat of the season, 21-7.

"Give Bert a lot of credit for this one," said Earle Edwards, the N.C. State coach. "He was tough to move around and put a potful of pressure on Glacken (Scotty Glacken the Duke quarterback) and made him hurry his throws."

"His play led us on the field, but it was his two speeches before the game and at halftime that really fired up the boys. I that really fired up the boys. I never saw Bert so determined to win a football game."

Wilder's talks fired the Wolfpack so that they held Duke to 76 yards rushing. Wilder, in addition to his rushing of Glacken, made numerous tackles, including one that set up a TD threat on the Wolfpack 11. It was State's first victory over Duke in 17 seasons.

Ends Bill Truax of Louisiana State, and Jim Campbell, of Navy, were strong contenders in the voting by sports writers and broadcasters.

Truax, termed a "Gargantua at the goal line" by Wayne Thomas of the Atlanta Journal, had a great day as LSU upset Florida 14-0 at Gainesville, Fla. Campbell was outstanding in Navy's 24-12 victory over Pitt at Annapolis. He caught seven passes from Roger Staubach for 92 yards, including four straight for 59 yards in Navy's 80-yard touchdown march in the second period that sent the Panthers tumbling from the unbeaten ranks.
